I. CALL TO ORDER
Mr. Putorti called the meeting to order with the Pledge of Allegiance at 7:01 p.m.

II. REPORTS AND INFORMATION
A. INFORMATION
Mr. Putorti explained the agenda by saying Mrs. Feige and Mr. Olechna would do their presentation and then there would be public comment so questions could be asked pertaining to the presentations.

1. School Improvement Plan: Bungay School – Mary Sue Feige
Mrs. Feige and Mr. Boyle presented the 2014-15 School Improvement plan (attached). Ms. Gesek asked how many parents responded to the parent survey and Mrs. Feige responded 45 parents responded. When asked how many students in Bungay she responded roughly 500 students but we must remember parents only respond once to the survey even when they have multiple children attending Bungay. Ms. Magri asked about early childhood education specifically if we are working with local preschools to let them know what we are doing in the school. Mrs. Feige said there are School Readiness Meetings which are part of TEAM and she attends regularly.
She said some area day cares participate as well as the Seymour Public Library. Mr. Putorti said we can share these scores with the area preschools and encourage them to change their programs in order to help bring up the scores. Ms. Harmeling expressed her concern regarding the kindergarten assessments. Mrs. Syrac responded that the testing is brand new, different tests were done at each school. She is not concerned at this time because we do not have a set level where they should be in scoring. Mr. Stanek asked for further information on Concepts of Print. Ms. Mucci explained how the assessments were done, explaining that the assessments were a screening tool only. It is a way to gather data on how we will proceed with each student. Mr. Strumello asked about strategies to support goals and if we are doing professional development (PD) in math as well as reading. Mrs. Feige confirmed we are doing PD for both reading and math and are pleased with the direction. Mr. Strumello also asked about incentives to get children to participate in the million minute challenge saying he felt an end of the year party was probably not enough. Mrs. Feige said the PTA bought a tee shirt for each student at Bungay School, they had a reading rally that included the high school cheerleading team and they are doing all they can to get people accustomed to reading and foster a love of reading. Mr. Strumello then asked about incentives for parents to attend the workshops saying he felt they needed to be encouraged to participate. One parent indicated that she didn’t feel parents needed incentives to attend the workshops, saying they had been told during conferences that the workshops would be coming up. Ms. Mucci said each student sent a personal invitation to their parent. Ms. Harmeling said she felt the biggest incentive for a parent is for their child to be showcased. When the second grade did PowerPoint presentations last year, we had a large group of parents participate. Parents will come to see their child when they get up to present.

2. School Improvement Plan: Chatfield-LoPresti School – David Olechna
Mr. Olechna and Ms. Malaragno presented the Chatfield-LoPresti School Improvement Plan for 2014-2015 (attached). Ms. Geseck asked what students with disabilities meant and Mr. Olechna said these are students with IEPs. Mr. Hatfield said he was confused by the two slides that dealt with parent communication. Mr. Olechna explained each slide and said 50 parents responded to the survey. Mr. Putorti said he felt we needed to work on getting better parent participation in the survey. Mr. Olechna confirmed communication is better with parents; teachers are tweeting, doing newsletters, sending home information but said we need to do more communication on individual students and parents. Mr. Olechna said there is an informational meeting on November 6 to let parents know what the process for interventions is. He said there are workshops planned in poetry and guidance is also doing a series of workshops. He also confirmed Chatfield-LoPresti and Bungay will be doing combined workshops on what we can do for kids before they enter kindergarten. Mr. Strumello congratulated Mr. Olechna and Mrs. Feige on the collaboration. He asked how paraprofessionals would be receiving additional training without having an impact on the budget. Mr. Olechna responded that they are very grateful to have the new kindergarten paraprofessionals in the classroom this year. These paraprofessionals received training before going into the classroom and it was decided this training would be something everyone can benefit from. They have taken advantage of time available while students are in assemblies to train paraprofessionals. One teacher suggested forming a “Close the Gap” committee. This committee will include interested teachers and will come up with ideas; their first meeting is next week. Mr. Olechna said he felt this committee makes the teachers feel empowered. Mr. Strumello said the Board would like to compensate paraprofessionals better and give more training but there are budget constraints. Mr. Strumello asked if CLS is leaning toward Silent Sustained Reading (SSR) and Mr. Olechna said he is listening to what the staff wants. Mr. Strumello reminded everyone that a student seeing a teacher reading is a powerful incentive.
III. PUBLIC COMMENT (A1 AND A2)

Ms. Agatha Parlak, 239 Pearl Street – said that she is one of the parents who answered the CLS survey that way. Her daughter was in kindergarten last year. Her daughter’s teacher was wonderful in the classroom but she did not get information on her daughter. At the end of the year, she received stacks and stacks of paperwork done by her daughter. She said she loves what they are doing and now, she is getting regular feedback.

Mr. Brian Roach, 93-4 Balance Rock Road – said he wanted to discuss something going on in the school but not related to the presentation. Mr. Putorti explained that this was a Special Meeting and the agenda is set and cannot be added to. He encouraged Mr. Roach to talk to him after the meeting was over.

Ms. Anne DeAngelis, 82 North Benham Road – asked for a little more information on the “Close the Gap” committee. She specifically wanted to know about the paraprofessionals and how are we going to close the achievement gap. Mr. Olechna said administration meets with teachers and special education twice a month. How are the goals going to be met? Mr. Olechna said the paraprofessionals are well prepared to meet the goals; we are going to train them all by finding the time, doing things more creatively. We need all of our staff to be on the right path. Ms. DeAngelis asked if parents can participate saying “you need us as much as we need you”. Mr. Olechna confirmed that parents can participate. Mr. Putorti said all teachers would appreciate information on your student; it will make teaching them easier. Ms. Feige said parents need to come out to the workshops.

IV. ADJOURNMENT

2014-15 Chatfield-LoPresti Mathematics Fall MAP Baseline Data
New Strategies for 2014-15

- Use MAP data to pin-point areas of focus to assist teachers in differentiating instruction and determining SRBI goals
- Continued school-wide focus on teaching students close reading and how to cite text evidence with both literature and informational text
- Build on the positive gains by English Language Learners; continue to focus on Free/Reduced Lunch Population and Special Education Population
- Concentrate on students with disabilities making banded growth progress
- Increase paraprofessional training
- Teacher-initiated Closing the Gap Committee
Indicators of Success

- DRA2 Assessment Results (K-5)
- MAP Scores – number of students reaching projected RIT Scores in January and May
- Monthly Running Records
- Collaboratively analyzed and scored student work samples (K-5)
- Number of students with disabilities making banded growth progress
